deem it unnecessary to enter into any detail upon that subject. But I have the gratification to state, that after unesting all the apprepriations and demands within the fleed year, the balance remaining in the treasury on the first instint, considerably exceeds that remaining at the end of the previous year.

The communication from Gideon Pearce, Eaq. with an Index to the laws and resolutions of the state, from the year 1826 to 1820, inclusive, prepared by him under authority of the executive, in virtue of the resolution No. 64, of November session 1811, herewith trans-

64, of November session 1811, herewith transmitted, has just been received. It rests with you to make Mr. Pearce such compensation for his services, as the nature and execution of the work, justly entitles him to.

In conclusion, allow me to say that I have adeavoured to abridge this report, as much as the variety of subjects necessary to be embraced would permits-preferring to submit the documents themselves to the wisdom of the legislature, as no doubt is entertained by me that your deliberations, aided by a kind and merciful Previdence, will tend to the ad-vancement of the honour, dignity and prosvancement of the honour to be,

I have the honour to be,
